

Dr Mohammad Jobayer Chisti

Dr Mohammad Jobayer Chisti has been working in icddr,b since March`1998. He is a Senior Scientist and Head of the Emergency Department in icddr,b.

He is the pediatric intensivist and was the Clinical Lead in ICU from 2012 to 2021. He has a particular interest in low cost innovative work and their scale up in resource limited settings in reducing under-five childhood mortality especially from pneumonia, PARDS, sepsis, diarrhea, and malnutrition. As a clinical researcher his further aim is to help his junior colleagues to be involved in innovative low-cost research work that can be translated in clinical services. It is important to note that as the recognition for his excellent work and contribution in the field of research and in general to the progress of biological sciences in in Bangladesh he received Bangladesh Academy of Science (BAS) -Dr. M Innas Ali Memorial Gold Medal Award 2022' awarded by BAS' in 2023. He has also received Bailey K. Ashford Medal for his distinguished contribution in tropical medicine and capacity building of his mentees, awarded by the ASTMH in their 71th annual meeting held in Seattle, USA in October, 2022. He has also received Australian Alumni Excellence Award for Research and Innovation in 2012, People`s Choice Award for Most Promising Childhood Pneumonia Innovation awarded by the Global Pneumonia Innovation Network in 2015, British Medical Journal, South Asia Award, in 2017, AMAH Siddiqui Memorial Award (national) in 2018 and Bangladesh Pediatric Pulmonology Forum Award (national) in 2020. Till date he has published more than 275 articles in international peer reviewed journals including the Lancet, Lancet Global Health, Lancet Regional Health-South-East Asia, EClinicalMedicine, JAMA, CID, JID and PCCM.